Introduction

Overview of RIW Program

The Rail Industry Worker Program (RIW) is a competency management system that aims to establish a cohesive, national approach to competency management.

The goal of the RIW Program is to minimise the risk of untrained personnel carrying out work on the Australian rail network and enhancing safety by enabling participants to view or share information about rail workers in the RIW System.

Australasian Railway Association

The Australasian Railway Association (ARA) is the peak body for rail in Australia and New Zealand, representing all sectors of the rail industry. The ARA provides a coordinated and unified voice on relevant issues of national importance to the rail sector. The ARA owns and endorses the RIW Program on behalf of its members and industry.

Metro Trains Australia

Metro Trains Australia (MTA) is a consortium of rail and construction businesses led by shareholders MTR Corporation, John Holland Group and UGL Rail. MTA will become the new service provider for the RIW Program from 28 June 2019, following a rigorous tender process run by ARA.
